

Action taken report on students feedback for Applied Geology (Academic year 2022 – 23)

The feedback forms received from students were shared with faculties for the courses they taught for AY 2022-23. The following courses of Semester III of M.Sc Applied Geology programme have no responses: GLO-209 Mining Geology and GLO-254 Practical of GLO-209.

It was observed that only few responses ranging from 1 to 6 responses were received for all other courses. The feedback received from students on most of the courses ranged from Good to very good. The students were largely satisfied with the quality of the courses. Except in few courses GEO-510, GEO-528, GLO-203, GLO-207 some amount of dissatisfaction was seen as per the unsatisfactory responses under some criteria.

Based on response of students for courses that received 'not satisfactory' feedback, the following actions have been taken:

1. The teachers were advised to improvise their teachings as per the responses received.
2. All students are to be encouraged and instructed to fill feedback forms in future. So that readings remain unbiased.
3. Students have been informed to utilize library resources. Order of some more books has been placed for the newer courses which have less reading materials.
