A WORLD OF SPIRITS WHISKY

Whisky or Whiskey is made in many places around the globe in even more styles. Despite its diversity whisky should always be made from a grain, barley, malted barley, corn or rye and be aged for at least 3 years in oak barrels. There are thousands of varieties and we have endeavored to collect some of the finest from Scotland and America.

The main regions HIGHLAND, ISLAY, ISLAND and SPEYSIDE have been selected, so take your pick from our collection and enjoy your “SINGLE MALT DREAM”.

SINGLE MALTS

HIGHLAND MALTS

The highland region is the largest Scotch whisky producing region. As a group these single malt whiskies are well rounded, robust, and dry in character with a hint of smokiness/peatiness. Those in coastal locations carry a hint of the sea, in the far north a light and spicy character can be found while those from the sheltered east and midlands have a more fruity character.

Glenmorangie 10 years old 545

The standard 10 Y.O has a subtle taste of candied fruit and orange peel and well rounded peatiness. It remains Scotland's favorite malt whisky.

Dalwhinnie 15 years old 625

It is light, heathery single malt with notes of sweet peat smoke, strawberry and beeswax on the nose. The palate is round and smoky, with flavors of honey, mustard, and a hint of citrus fruit.

Clynelish 14 years old 595

A superb example of what can be produced even at younger age. The balance is sublime & the mouth feel is perfectly rounded. Zesty, mandarin, smoky with a spicy oak finish.

LOWLAND MALTS

The Lowlands produces gentle, light whiskies, often very dry and devoid of peat. Lowland whiskies are commonly referenced as feminine drams, 'the Lowland Ladies'.

Glenkinchie 12 years old

595

A rather sweet nose with honey, malt and ripe fruits hints. The mouth prolongs nicely the nose, honey and the fruits, some slightly acid notes are present as well as a touch of nuts at the end. The finish is relatively short.

ISLAY MALTS

The small island of Islay off the west coast of Scotland is home to seven distilleries, famous for its heavily peated malt whiskies which have a heavy, smoky and medicinal flavour.

Lagavulin 16 years old

945

ISLAND MALTS

The general term for Scotch whiskies produced on the islands around the perimeter of the Scottish mainland, excluding Islay. Although people equate "Island" whiskies as being similar to the peat monsters of Islay, this is far from true. The whiskies produced on the islands are extremely different and have few similarities to point to.

Talisker

545

Single malt like no other. A powerful, peat-smoky nose introduces its deep, sweet taste, rich in barley-malt, with a slight salt edge. A huge, long and warming finish gives a wonderful Hebridean after glow.

SPEYSIDE

This area, which stretches the length of the River Spey, has the greatest concentration of distilleries in the world. This is "malt whisky country" and the whiskies are renowned for their elegance, style and complexity.

Balvenie 12 years old

Observation

It was really great experience to work in bar, I learnt how the bar work in busy time. I become more confident to speak with guests. I Observed how associates interact with guests and handle any situation and way the take care of guests. I learnt make cocktail and mocktail, I learnt to use POS using the correct modifier and table number, to make do settlement.

And also I have to gain a lot of knowledge about the alcohol and about bar function.

Suggestion

- There is shortage for glassware in Bar, Restaurant, Room Dining, Banquet.

It was chaos during operational timing.

- Increasing the stipend for trainees

For the 2 months I interned at taj I was offered a stipend of Rs. 1200 which was a very unjust amount considering the work load and long shift hours.

- Increasing salaries of contract workers

The contract workers pay was also very low and this had seemed to create dissatisfaction among the employees. Providing them with higher pay equivalent to the work they do will help improve the employee retention rate.

CONCLUSION

It was a complete useful experience working at the Taj exotica resort & spa.

The friendly Welcoming staff and the positive working environment they have created for a trainee/intern allowed me with full opportunities to learn and know myself as a worker.

This experience brought out my strength and also the areas I needed to make up. It added more confidence to my Professional approach built a stronger positive attitude and taught me how to work in Team as a player.

I have made mistake during my training period but I learnt from my mistake made me more confident to work potentially. I came to believe that a successful person need to have strong public speaking skill since their job scope includes them with large amount of communication.

The primary objective of an internship is to gather a real-life working experience and put their theoretical knowledge in practice.

During my training, I thoroughly enjoyed the challenges that came along every single day. As a human being, I noticed many changes in my attitude. I am more confident and more likely to do any work now. This ia an experience that I will value for the rest of my life.
