She conducted conversation classes, collaborated with the teachers to prepare course material, intervened in class with the concerned teacher, participated in school trips and conducted mock-exams for the final year students. She also worked with the History Department on the subject of Indian History and Civilization.

Ms. Gomes has been a great asset to the English department. She was extremely dedicated to her tasks, hard-working and enthusiastic ( willing to learn about our country as well as share with the students and staff her particular knowledge of English-speaking India that we were not familiar with. ) She also had a good rapport with the students - a benevolent approach mingled with a quiet authority.
