The objective/description of the activity	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) To help students of Social Work understanding the application of Reality Therapy. 2) To enable social work students to create warm, trusting relationships with clients using RT.
Benefit/Key outcome of the event	Reality Therapy is an approach that has been effective in education, parenting, leadership and management or in any situation where people need to learn how to satisfy their basic needs in . responsible ways. This workshop enabled the Social Work Programme students to understand their basic wants of Survival, Love and belonging,

Power, Freedom and Fun through a set of guided activities. The students were made to become aware of their behaviors, and assess the reasons of the choices they have been making, they self-evaluated their choices and learnt to plan for actions that will create the life they want to live by using the Choice theory.
