- 5.2. It is expressly understood and agreed by the Parties that the remuneration payable under this Agreement is adequate for the restrictions set out in this clause and although the Employee and the Company consider the restrictions contained in this Clause to be reasonable for the protection of the legitimate business interest of the Company, its intellectual property rights, goodwill, commercial secrets, operations, levels of competition and reputation, if a final judicial determination is made by a court or other authority of competent jurisdiction that the time or territory or any other restriction contained in this Agreement is an unenforceable restriction against the Employee's, the provisions of this Agreement shall not be rendered void but shall be deemed amended to apply as to such maximum time and territory and to such maximum extent as such court or authority may judicially determine or indicate to be enforceable. Alternatively, if any court or authority of competent jurisdiction finds that any restriction contained in this Agreement is unenforceable, and such restriction cannot be amended so as to make it enforceable, such finding shall not affect the enforceability of any of the other restrictions contained herein.

6. TERM AND TERMINATION

- 6.1. The date on which the Agreement comes to an end by termination in accordance with the terms contained hereinafter shall be referred to as the "Termination Date".
- 6.2. Resignation: The Employee may resign from employment with the Company by providing 45 days' notice. The Employee is expected to serve the Company diligently during this period of notice, in accordance with all applicable Company policies unless the Employee pays in lieu of such notice. Any resignation would have to be accepted by the Company to become effective.
- 6.3. Termination by the Company for Business Reasons: The Company may terminate the services of the Employee by giving 45 days' notice or salary in lieu thereof.
- 6.4. Termination by Company for Cause: Notwithstanding anything mentioned in this Agreement, the Company may terminate the employment of the Employee with immediate effect without notice or payment in lieu of notice for Cause. The Company may also terminate the employment of the Employee with immediate effect, without any notice or payment in lieu of notice, on grounds prescribed under law or Company policies. "Cause" means, as reasonably determined by the Company, the occurrence of any of the following: 1) any misappropriation of corporate funds; 2) commission or conviction for or a guilty plea to a serious crime; 3) engaging in any activity that the Employee knows or should know could harm the Company, its business or reputation; 4) material failure to adhere to the Company's corporate codes, policies or procedures; 5) a breach of any covenant in the Employee's employment or any intellectual property agreement, 6); failure by the Employee to substantially perform his duties or follow management direction if failure is not cured to the Company's satisfaction within a reasonable period of time after a written demand for substantial performance is delivered to him; or 7) violation of any statutory, contractual or common law duty or obligation to the Company, including without limitation the duty of loyalty. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the mere failure to achieve performance objectives will not constitute Cause.

- 6.5. Termination on account of disability or illness: If on account of illness or disability, the Employee is prevented from properly performing duties for period of three months in any one year or for consecutive period of three months, the Company may immediately terminate the employment by providing the Employee three months' notice or salary in lieu of notice.
- 6.6. Retirement: The Employee will automatically retire from the Company on attaining the age of sixty years. An extension may however, be given at the discretion of the Company.
- 6.7. The Company may set off any amounts owing and payable by the Employee to the Company at the time of termination of the Employee's employment against any amount then payable to him by the Company.
- 6.8. Upon cessation of the employment of the Employee, the Company, the group companies or any of their respective shareholders, affiliates, directors, officers or employees, shall not have any obligation of any description whatsoever to compensate, pay remuneration or otherwise make any payments or distributions of any nature whatsoever to the Employee and on any ground whatsoever except as otherwise agreed in this Agreement.
- 6.9. Upon cessation of the employment of the Employee, all documents, data, recordings, or other property, whether tangible or intangible, including all information stored in electronic form, obtained or prepared by or for you and utilized by you in the course of your employment with the Company shall be returned by you within [] days of the Termination Date, to the Company.

7. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

- 7.1. "Intellectual Property" means all know-how, patents, trademarks (whether registered or unregistered), trade or business names, ideas, concepts, processes, products or works of authorship, registered and unregistered design rights, copyright (including rights in computer software and moral rights), topography rights, rights in relation to databases, rights in the nature of copyright or any other industrial, commercial or Intellectual Property rights (whether or not registered and including applications for registration of any of them) and all rights or forms of protection of a similar nature or having an equivalent or similar effect to any of the above, which may subsist anywhere in the world.
- 7.2. The Employee must disclose to the Company all work, ideas, concepts, designs, inventions, models, developments and improvements made or conceived during the course of his engagement or with the use of any of the Company's time, materials or facilities or other resources whether made or conceived alone or with others. Further, all work done by the Employee, and all materials developed by the Employee, would be considered as being specially ordered or commissioned by the Company for its sole and exclusive use. Furthermore, it is expressly agreed that the Company shall have exclusive ownership rights over all such work, services, and material and all Intellectual Property Rights developed or created by the Employee during the course of performance of the services and that these rights shall vest exclusively with the Company, worldwide and in perpetuity such that the Company is considered their author or producer.
