

WORLD POETRY DAY 2022

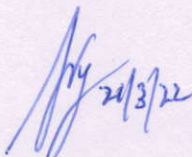

On 21st March 2022, the Department of Portuguese & Lusophone Studies, Goa University, organized World Poetry Day with the theme PEACE, at the Seminar Hall, Faculty Block B.

This year, the event was held in physical mode, unlike last year, and witnessed the participation of 38 students and faculty, from the department, both B.A and M.A, as well as the departments of French, Hindi, Konkani and Management Studies, reading out poetry in languages as diverse as English, Portuguese, French, Hindi, Konkani. These included students and faculty who read and sang some of their own compositions.

The event began with a welcome address by the Head, Department of Portuguese & Lusophone Studies, Dr. Anthony Viegas, who warmly welcomed the gathering, calling it a flagship event of the Department, which has now become an annual event eagerly awaited by the students, who express their love for poetry, a genre which breaks through all cultural barriers,

This was followed by the keynote address by Ms. Loraine Alberto, Assistant Professor at the Department of Portuguese, who began her address with a tribute to Dr. Bicaji Ghanekar, well known Goan poet and writer, who passed away in February, by observing a minute silence for his departed soul, and then playing a recording of his performance at the virtual Multilingual Reading Session, at World Poetry Day 2021. She then highlighted the significance of this Day, and the reason for picking the theme Peace.

- The programme ended with the rendition of A Paz in song, by Assistant Professor, Dept. of Portuguese, Mr. Franz Schubert Cotta.
